

Associate in Health Studies (8C106)

Programme Intended Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of the Associate in Health Studies programme, graduates will be able to:

- P-ILO-1      Communication: Communicate effectively in oral and written English and Chinese with clients and professionals in health-care settings.

- P-ILO-2      IT and Quantitative skills: Apply information technology and quantitative skills to carry out tasks commonly encountered in daily life, at work and in tertiary level studies.

- P-ILO-3      Problem Solving: Generate practical and workable solutions to deal with problems encountered in daily life, at work and in tertiary level studies.

- P-ILO-4      Health Care Knowledge and Skills: Apply principles, techniques and equipment as well as practical skills to promote wellness of clients in health care settings.

- P-ILO-5      Critical Thinking: Evaluate information, ideas, arguments and issues critically and make evidence-based decisions within the practice of an associate professional.

- P-ILO-6      Ethics and Professional Attitudes: Demonstrate a professional attitude in terms of sense of responsibility and integrity.

- P-ILO-7      Broadening: Describe and explain issues and concerns commonly encountered in daily life, at work or in tertiary studies, drawing upon knowledge and skills from a broad range of disciplines.